NORTHERN DISTRICT CHAMPS FRASERBURGH 28TH NOVEMBER

ALAN REID (Peterhead) and John Bowman (Inverness Harriers) have become Scotland's best known cross-country running double act over the past four years, Fraser Clyne reports.

During this period, the two great rivals have enjoyed exclusive rights to the top places in the Northern District Championship, Reid winning the title from Bowman in 1989, with the positions reversed in 1990 and 1991.

Reid equalled the score in this year's race, held on the beachside at Fraserburgh, with a comfortable 62sec victory over his sparring partner.

The inaugural women's championship was won by Ann Smart, who easily defeated clubmate Maggie Adamson.

Joy Sim (Moray Road Runners), running over the same course as the seniors, won the intermediate championship in a faster time than her elders.
