

SOUTH-WEST WINNERS.

Kilmarnock Harriers, in the South-Western District Championship, justified their position as favourites. They beat Doon Harriers with an aggregate of 136 points against 84. Eglinton were third with 136, but they had to fight hard to beat Glenpark by the narrow margin of one point.

Tod was responsible for securing a memorable event for the team-winners. He took command early, and, though W. McNeill, Doon, tried to wear him down, he ran out a victor by the substantial margin of 120 yards.
